Committee Reports

- Cuttie Michele Milgrim- motion to renew the cuttime $100. Has been a great year with this new company. A couple of people have requested to be removed
- Uniforms: Stacie Kremper- 7 badly damaged hats from rain and mildew, got put away with wet gloves. Uniforms are hung up and put away for now. Several pairs of shoes fell apart. Looking forward to St. Patrick's day.
- Color Guard: on hiatus until January
- Ways and Means: Kathleen Detwiler- great craft fair, lots of new and old faces. Vendors were very happy. Student performers were a hit. There will be a debriefing meeting on Friday night at Panera. Anne said about $5225 was made for the boosters. Linda got a check from Hannaford of $367 for books. Citrus orders due now, Wreath orders are out and due November 29. Cinnabon pick up is November 21. Food drive went well at the craft fair. Brass choir will be playing at Barnes and Noble fundraiser November 29, Hickory BBQ is next week, Wednesday and Thursday night
- Merchandising: Christine Morrison-the booth did well at fall fanfare. Almost $1000 at the craft fair
- Chaperones: Michele Milgrim- chaperones were absolutely amazing this year. Lots of new parents and upper classman who jumped in with both feet to take charge. Big thank you! Feedback from the dome at Syracuse was how organized our band was. We have a date in December to redesign the bus bags with possible proposal for new bags and will come back with a proposal and proposed budget. Also, a formal proposal amendment to the by laws about chaperoning will be discussed. Colleen Mulready will be taking over chaperoning next year.
- Yearbook- Brenda Fryling/Maria Maritsas-Meeting next Wednesday to start putting the yearbook together. All the adds are in. Not too late to purchase a yearbook.
- Website: Cyrus Mulready- great job
- Publicity: Colleen Mulready -great publicity this year. Very happy with how well the promoting went.
- Fall Fanfare: Stacie Kremper/Mike Detwiler- Great run this year! Thank you to everyone who contributed to making it happen. The breakdown this year was gross $19,429.00 expenses $4,273.56 net $15,155.44. The kids did a great job regardless of the rain.
- Treasurer's Report: Anne Lamb/Heather Blakely -john 1st, Jen 2nd, unanimous treasurer's report accepted

- E-votes: none
- New Business-
- Rules of conduct will be placed on the Facebook page, we have over 1,200 members now.

Facebook is used as a positive re-enforcement tool.

- Possible gift certificate for the custodians and secretary at Chambers for all their work during the craft fair $25 for each and one for Denise for taking the pictures during the year $100. Vote: unanimous

G and G's Corner-Thank you for all the hard work from everyone. There is a common goal for this to go forward. I am at a loss for words....Great year. It is very appreciated by him and the students. Without the help we would not be able to achieve what we have. We got an email from the historian from the NYS field band. One of the things he does is that he goes to every show since day one. We shouldn't feel bad that we got second. This was a year that Kingston stood out in his mind. We did an outstanding job. He was really proud of us and what we accomplished.

Moving forward we have postponed our pops concert. Most likely will be when the auditorium opens up.

Plan is to still move the music room to Carnegie when they start construction in the music rooms. Possible spring trip more information to come. First marking period have ended. The kids' grades are out. Lessons and sectionals count toward the grade and attendance really matters. A lot of opportunities to make up lessons, for example playing at the craft fair and playing in the brass choir and also morning lessons.
